Beyond imagination

Now to him who is able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine, according to his power that is at work within us, to him be glory.

From the Editor

One of my colleagues likes to encourage us to “Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow.”, especially when we are nearing the end of the day and trying to do one more thing before leaving the office.

This is a deliberate misquote of Benjamin Franklin’s “Don’t put off until tomorrow what you can do today.” Or possibly a paraphrase of Mark Twain’s version, “Never put off till tomorrow what you can do the day after tomorrow.” I can relate to this adage, even though I recognise the wisdom of not putting off those tasks - it’s so easy to procrastinate!

As the first month of 2024 draws to a close, we may be finding that some of our New Year’s Resolutions have been abandoned, or at least put off until tomorrow.

The Bible reminds us: Be very careful, then, how you live - not as unwise but as wise, making the most of every opportunity (Ephesians 5:15,16b NIV).

So let’s remember to make the most of every opportunity we encounter, especially in our walks with Jesus. May we seek to be channels of God’s peace, to share His love and to serve Him throughout the year, starting today, not tomorrow.

In over 14,100 days of knowing each other, nearly 13,000 days of married life and some 30+ years of working in ministry together, there is something that Vikki and I cannot do at the same time, that is be in the kitchen and cook together. It just does not work.

I am blessed being married to an amazing cook, and a couple of times a week I also cook the main meal. This is something I enjoy, and yes, it is edible. However, we learnt early in our relationship that in all things culinary, we are incompatible. Whether I am cooking a full roast (yes, I can) or something simpler, I can only do so if Vikki is out of the kitchen.

Why? Well, that is where we get to the core issue. We do it differently. For some people it is the loading of the dishwasher that causes the problem, for others it is what mug to use (or not) for us it is simply we are totally different in our cooking methods. Vikki is incredible, she will start cooking and continue to prepare the vegetables and other things as she goes along. Me, I must get everything out on the side, then prepare everything and only then, when it is all ready can I start to cook. The result is that Vikki cooks a meal far more efficiently and quickly than I do, but when I cook, she gets a longer rest (and is really hungry) before the food arrives. As I said, we learnt this early in our relationship and we are totally chilled with it. But this is one way in which we are very different. Different is not a bad thing, we deeply appreciate one another's style, and the outcome from both is good!

I can imagine now, the readers will be in either Vikki's camp or my camp... but the point is that we are all different, we all have different ways of doing the same things, and different is not wrong, it is simply, well..... what is the word I am struggling for? Oh yes, "different".

In church we are blessed to have people who are so different from one another, and our difference is shown by the way we do things, we worship differently, pray differently, talk differently, and eat different food and wear different clothes. Some like to sit upstairs and others like the downstairs. Some like to sit at the back, others in the middle, and some even like the front row. In so many other ways our diversity is shown.

In Galatians 3:28 it says 'There is neither Jew nor Gentile, neither slave nor free, nor is there male and female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus'.

So, our challenge is not to question or criticise people who are different from us and behave differently. It is not to try and get people to be like us and do it our way. No, I sense that part of our life in 2024 is to celebrate our diversity, not tolerate, or question, but to truly celebrate and allow all to follow Jesus in their own style, while remaining covenanted together as brothers and sisters in Christ. In doing so we will discover a richness of blessing as we benefit from the fruits of one another's uniqueness.

Anyway, I must go, I am cooking tonight, and Vikki wants to eat in the next 2 hours!!

BMS BIRTHDAY SCHEME

Birthdays February 2024

19th Becki Swindale
26th Margaret Coles

Birthdays March 2024

3rd Glynis Brown
7th Don May
18th Keith Carter

For those who are not aware of the Scheme, it is organised by the Baptist Missionary Society (BMS) World Mission in order to support various projects:-
'From getting vital healthcare to remote communities in Nepal, to providing education for refugees from Syria' your gifts are helping to make a difference where it is needed most.
By committing to giving a gift on your birthday, of any amount, you will be 'choosing to bless others'. (Birthday Scheme New Bulletin 2024)

BMS BIRTHDAY SCHEME

Thank you very much to all those who have given a donation to the BMS Birthday Scheme on your birthday during 2023, raising a total of £1271.00 including Gift Aid. Additional gifts have also been sent directly to BMS online and all your gifts are greatly appreciated.

If anyone is interested in knowing more about the scheme, I will be happy to provide you with further details.

Thank you again on behalf of BMS, and best wishes to you all for 2024.

Smile Lines

Romance, love, marriage and all that stuff -
the way children see it....

How do you decide who to marry?

You got to find somebody who likes the same stuff. Like, if you like sports, she should like it that you like sports, and she should keep the crisps and dip coming. - Alan, age 10

No person really decides before they grow up who they're going to marry. God decides it all way before, and you get to find out later who you're stuck with. - Kirsten, age 10

What is the right age to get married?

23 is the best age because you know the person FOREVER by then. - Camille, age 10

How can a stranger tell if two people are married?

You might have to guess, based on whether they seem to be yelling at the same kids. - Derrick, age 8

What do you think your mum and dad have in common?

Both don't want any more kids. - Lori, age 8

What do most people do on a date?

Dates are for having fun, and people should use them to get to know each other. Even boys have something to say, if you listen long enough. - Lynnette, age 8

On the first date, they just tell each other lies and that usually gets them interested enough to go for a second date. - Martin, age 10
